

Sempra Energy Named To Forbes' JUST 100 List

October 15, 2020

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 15, 2020 /PRNewswire/ -- Forbes and JUST Capital have named Sempra Energy (NYSE: SRE) to the Forbes JUST 100 list, which is intended to recognize companies that are doing right by all their stakeholders, including employees, customers, communities, the environment and shareholders.

"Sempra Energy's vision to deliver energy with purpose comes to life through our stakeholder-centered approach and leading with environmental, social and governance principles," said Lisa Alexander, senior vice president of corporate affairs and chief sustainability officer for Sempra Energy. "It's an honor to see Forbes and JUST Capital recognize Sempra Energy as a 'most just' corporation working to create long-term sustainable value for our stakeholders."

"Now more than ever, business leaders have the chance to spark lasting systemic change within their companies and across society," said Forbes Senior Editor Steven Bertoni. "The companies in this year's JUST 100 show that we can face the twin tragedies of the COVID-19 pandemic and racial inequality and continue to improve our actions and refocus our missions to do better, and be better, for all stakeholders."

Through vigorous, objective analysis determined by data from public reports, company surveys and crowd-sourced repositories, the Forbes JUST 100 evaluates and celebrates U.S. publicly traded corporations that outperform on the issues that matter most to the American public – paying a fair wage, upholding human rights across the supply chain, investing in worker training, acting ethically and with integrity, cultivating a diverse and inclusive workplace, protecting worker health and safety, providing good benefits and work-life balance, and more. By striving to meet the needs of all stakeholders, JUST 100 leaders demonstrate that profits and purpose go hand in hand.

United under a vision to deliver energy with purpose, Sempra Energy's 18,000 employees power the lives of more than 35 million consumers. This award represents the company's continued progress on living its values: do the right thing, champion people and shape the future.
