

Glen Donovan Appointed Vice President of Investor Relations for Semptra

April 1, 2022

SAN DIEGO, April 1, 2022 /PRNewswire/ -- Semptra (NYSE: SRE) (BMV: SRE) today announced that Glen Donovan, currently vice president of development for Semptra Infrastructure's LNG and net-zero solutions business, has been appointed vice president of investor relations for Semptra. Manuela "Nelly" Molina, Semptra's current vice president of investor relations, has been named vice president of audit services effective April 2, 2022.

"Glen's leadership experience across the Semptra family of companies and contributions to sustainable development at our infrastructure business make him a key asset as he returns to take on a critical leadership role at Semptra," said Trevor Mihalik, executive vice president and chief financial officer of Semptra. "In his new role as vice president of investor relations, Glen will help shape how we highlight Semptra's growth and business story to our shareholders to further demonstrate our commitment to a sustainable future."

As vice president of development at Semptra Infrastructure, Donovan oversaw the development of LNG and net-zero opportunities, including exploring existing infrastructure for clean hydrogen production. Donovan previously served as vice president of finance and vice president of project development and structuring for Semptra LNG and held various positions of increasing responsibility at Semptra Renewables, including vice president of business development. In these roles, he was responsible for renewable project finance, mergers and acquisitions, asset management and renewable contract origination.

At Semptra, Donovan has held several corporate finance roles, including director of investor relations, and oversaw the company's planning and analysis functions.
