Progress at Sempra's Three Growth Platforms

Sempra's three growth platforms – Sempra California, Sempra Texas and Sempra Infrastructure – deliver energy to nearly 40 million consumers across some of the world's most significant economic markets.

“Last year we made great strides in improving safety, operations and customer service across all three business lines,” said Martin. “Building out the scope and scale of our business means continued investments in innovation and technology to drive value to our customers in the form of improved safety, service quality, and affordability.”

Sempra Texas

Led by Oncor Electric Delivery Company LLC (Oncor), Sempra Texas is executing on a significant growth campaign in the country's fastest growing energy market. Oncor's new five-year capital plan of $36 billion represents a 50% increase over last year's five-year plan, driven by a portfolio of diverse investment opportunities across both geography and customer mix. Oncor is contemplating filing a comprehensive base rate review later this year.

In 2024, Oncor invested close to $4.7 billion to support the growing needs of its customers. Over $2 billion of transmission projects were placed into service by Oncor in 2024, including placement of over 75 substation projects and over 45 switching station projects. In 2024, Oncor built, rebuilt or upgraded approximately 4,300 miles of transmission and distribution lines. In 2024, Oncor saw a 27% increase in new transmission interconnection requests as compared to 2023, the majority of which are from large commercial and industrial customers. At the end of 2024, Oncor had a diverse set of large commercial and industrial customers representing 137 gigawatts of potential load active in its interconnection queue, representing an approximate 250% increase from 2023.

Oncor's first System Resiliency Plan (SRP) was approved by the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUCT) in November. Under the SRP, Oncor plans to invest nearly $3 billion of capital expenditures and over $500 million in incremental operations and maintenance expenses, with the majority of the spend to occur between the years 2025 through 2027, to help reduce the impact and duration of severe weather outages and address other physical and cybersecurity improvements to the electric grid.

Sempra California

Serving roughly 25 million consumers, Sempra California is a dual-utility platform focused on connecting people to safe, reliable and cleaner energy. In 2024, demand for electricity reached an all-time high of 5,032 megawatts in San Diego Gas & Electric's (SDGE) service territory, highlighting the growing importance of continued investments in the energy grid to deliver new sources of energy to the California market.

In 2024, SDGE opened a new state-of-the-art Wildfire and Climate Resiliency Center dedicated to risk mitigation and enhancing the company's capabilities in wildfire and climate resilience, representing Sempra California's continued focus on extending its position as a leader in community safety through proactive mitigation of wildfire risk.

In December, Sempra California's regulated utilities received a final decision from the California Public Utilities Commission (CPUC) on their general rate cases, which improves visibility to utility investments through 2027. Also in December, the CPUC determined that maintaining natural gas storage levels at Southern California Gas Company's Aliso Canyon storage facility is currently critical for the continued reliability of California's electric grid and natural gas system, as well as consumer affordability.

Sempra Infrastructure

In 2024, Sempra Infrastructure reached commercial operations on both the Gasoducto Rosarito pipeline expansion and Topolobampo Terminal and made progress advancing five significant construction projects while further strengthening its ability to capitalize on growing demand for cleaner and more secure energy in global markets.

Cameron LNG Phase 1 continues to deliver superior production of liquefied natural gas (LNG) and loaded nearly 200 cargoes in 2024. As the company executes the ongoing development and construction of its LNG portfolio, Energía Costa Azul LNG Phase 1 continues to target the start-up of commercial operations in spring of 2026, and construction at Port Arthur LNG Phase 1 remains on time and on budget.

The Port Arthur LNG Phase 2 development project is receiving strong commercial interest. Sempra Infrastructure continues to hold substantial, active discussions with world-class companies for participation in the Phase 2 project, which is already anchored by a non-binding HOA for LNG offtake and a proposed equity investment with a subsidiary of Saudi Aramco, as well as a fixed-price engineering, procurement and construction contract with Bechtel Energy. The company is targeting a final investment decision in 2025, pending the execution of definitive commercial agreements, obtaining permits and securing financing, among other factors.

Capital Plan Growth

Sempra is forecasting a company-record five-year 2025-2029 capital plan of approximately $56 billion, which represents a 16% increase from its prior plan, with over 90% of projected capital expenditures focused on regulated utility investments in Texas and California.

“Our team is excited about our new five-year capital plan, which is designed to help meet the energy needs of customers today and tomorrow, while significantly expanding our projected utility rate base by roughly 10% annually,” said Karen Sedgwick, executive vice president and chief financial officer of Sempra. “When considering the long-term trends in Sempra’s core markets, we are confident there will be significant opportunities to deploy incremental capital through the end of the decade and beyond.”

Earnings Guidance

Due to recent and planned regulatory matters and the backdrop of a higher-cost environment, Sempra is revising its full-year 2025 earnings-per-common share (EPS) guidance range to $4.30 to $4.70. Sempra is also issuing full-year 2026 EPS guidance of $4.80 to $5.30. Using 2025 as the foundation for the company’s future growth, 2026 guidance represents a 12% year-over-year increase from the midpoint of 2025 guidance. The company is also increasing its projected long-term EPS growth rate to 7% to 9%.

Common and Preferred Dividends

Sempra’s board of directors declared a $0.645 per share quarterly dividend on the company's common stock, which is payable April 15, 2025, to common stock shareholders of record at the close of business on March 20, 2025. The declared quarterly dividend represents an increase of the company's common stock dividend to $2.58 per share, on an annualized basis, from $2.48 per share in 2024.

Additionally, Sempra’s board of directors declared a semi-annual dividend of $24.375 per share on the company’s 4.875% Fixed-Rate Reset Cumulative Redeemable Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series C. The preferred stock dividends will be payable April 15, 2025, to preferred stock shareholders of record at the close of business on April 1, 2025.

Sempra Adjusted Earnings and Adjusted EPS are non-GAAP financial measures (GAAP represents generally accepted accounting principles in the United States of America). These non-GAAP financial measures exclude significant items that are generally not related to our ongoing business activities and/or are infrequent in nature. These non-GAAP financial measures also exclude the impact from foreign currency and inflation on our monetary positions in Mexico and net unrealized gains and losses on commodity and interest rate derivatives, which we expect to occur in future periods, and which can vary significantly from one period to the next. Exclusion of these items is useful to management and investors because it provides a meaningful comparison of the performance of Sempra's business operations to prior and future periods. Non-GAAP financial measures are supplementary information that should be considered in addition to, but not as a substitute for, the information prepared in accordance with GAAP. The table below reconciles for historical periods these non-GAAP financial measures to Sempra GAAP Earnings and GAAP EPS, which we consider to be the most directly comparable financial measures calculated in accordance with GAAP.

⁽¹⁾ Except for adjustments that are solely income tax, income taxes on pretax amounts were primarily calculated based on applicable statutory tax rates. We record equity losses from our investment in Oncor Holdings net of income tax. We did not record an income tax expense for the equity earnings from our investment in RBS Sempra Commodities LLP in 2023 because, even though a portion may be deductible under United Kingdom tax law, it is not probable that the deduction will reduce United Kingdom taxes.
